

Career advisory, one on one.

Strategy, positioning and a partner through your next move, for experienced professionals.

Kristin Taylor
Founder & Managing Member

It starts with a private conversation about where you are today, what is no longer serving you, and how you want to shape your next chapter. We work with professionals through career pivots, leadership transitions, re-entry after time away and moments of recalibration.

Advisory sessions

Tailored to your situation and anchored in outcomes. Each session ends with clear actions and a defined path forward.

- Defining target roles and evaluating fit
- Translating your experience into the market's language
- Interview readiness and compensation strategy
- Search structure, outreach and professional presence

Interview preparation

Focused, role-specific preparation, calibrated to the level and industry of the role.

- Live mock interviews with direct feedback
- A sharper story for the room you're walking into
- Approaches for different interview formats and stakeholders

Résumé and LinkedIn

Written for where you're going next. For experienced professionals only.

- A résumé written for your target level and function
- A LinkedIn profile aligned with the résumé and built for recruiter visibility
- One revision included

5 Kept small on purpose.
Active clients per advisor, so each one gets real attention.

15 Minutes, free.
A private first conversation about where you want to go next.

Testimonials

"After seven months of applying to jobs with no traction, I decided to work with Kristin. Within days of updating my résumé and LinkedIn, I had two interviews lined up with global firms. By the end of the week, I had an offer to lead a national practice."

"Working with Kristin shifted my perspective from watching things fall apart to seeing a world of opportunities within reach."

"I went from zero recruiters looking at my profile to fifteen."
